

WE NOMINATE

Richard Kates Paynter Jr., who week after week—in spite of the uncertainties hanging over the country in the summer of 1953—is charged with the tremendous responsibility of investing an average of a million dollars a day. As Financial Vice-President of the New York Life Insurance Company, a company possessing admitted assets of nearly $5,500,000,000 and with approximately $12,000,000,000 of insurance in force, this 49-year old Princetonian is concerned with investment operations which stagger a layman's comprehension of things financial and in the long pull help balance the nation's economy on an even keel.

Before the signing of the Korean Truce, Paynter took issue with the dreary economic prophets and explained his optimistic views to a newspaperman interested in just how Paynter would handle his company's millions "if a recession shows up later this year or early next." He assured the reporter that a large share of the funds-to-be-invested had already been allocated to "where they promise to bring in an adequate yield consistent with safety" and stressed that his reasoned optimism is hinged upon America's growth in population and industrial production. Ten days or so after the armistice, business seemed to have drawn the same conclusion; a widely quoted spokesman declared, "the Nation's prosperity is not dependent on war or defense expenditures."

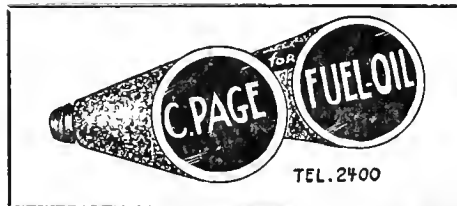

A native of Washington, D. C., and a member of the Princeton Class of 1925, Paynter has made his home here for some 20 years—a period paralleling his rise as an insurance executive. Following eight years in investment banking, he joined New York Life in 1934, moved steadily upwards and last June reached the next-to-top rung with his elevation to an executive vice-presidency, the position he will assume next January. In these years New York Life has undergone phenomenal expansion. One observer, writing in 1952, three years after Paynter became Financial Vice-President, noted that "carefully selected investments" were basic factors in that growth.

Paynter's accomplishments can be traced in both Who's Who in Insurance and Who's Who in Railroad-ing, two standard and unrelated reference-sources. For instance, between his designation as a railroad economist in 1934 and his election as New York Life's Treasurer in 1944, he was instrumental in the reorganization and administration of some 20 American railroads. Throughout his "Princeton Years," including a courageous and winning battle with a frightening eye-affliction, his myriad activities have centered about devotion to the best interests of Trinity Episcopal Church and the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey.

For blending leadership and knowledge and thereby helping men to shape events instead of being helplessly shaped by them; for ranking among the "seeing financial minds" of his time; for understanding that nothing can be as important as strengthening the faith all men must live by; he is the Editors' nominee for

Topics of the Town

Object: Matrimony. A couple of years ago, a young Spaniard interested in starting a correspondence with American girls initiated his proposal through TOWN TOPICS. Last year, a German girl who wanted an American husband and preferred, above all, that he come from Princeton, N. J., wrote to record her wishes in these columns. (She got numerous replies and a husband, although not one living in Princeton.)

This week, TOWN TOPICS—somewhat perplexed at its growing role in international matrimony—is the possessor of a letter from a young Dutchman, a veteran of Korean fighting who liked the Americans he met there so much that he wants to make this country his home. The preferred procedure:
through marriage to an American girl.

TOWN TOPICS received the letter from William Habada of Mount Lucas Road. Mr. Habada doesn't know the writer (a Mr. Groeneveld of Den Haag, Holland) but the latter found Mr. Habada's name and address in a copy of the Indian Head, the magazine published for members of the Second Infantry Division of the U.S. Army. That was the outfit with which Mr. Habada fought during World War I;
Mr. Groeneveld came to know various members of the present Second Division in Korea.

"I can tell you it was a very great honour to me," he writes, "and I'll never forget them." He continues:

"I would like to keep contact with Americans and if possible, more than that, I would like to meet your people again. As you will understand, in Holland something like that is not possible, because only Dutchmen live here."

Mr. Groeneveld asks that an advertisement be inserted in a newspaper, offering to pay for it with "some souvenir, because the Dutch Bank does not allow sending money out of the country. If you could," he concludes, "I thank you forever."

The advertisement he submitted:

YOUNG DUTCHMAN: 25 years old, wants to marry an American girl.
Only serious letters (with picture if possible) will be answered.

over 200,000 square feet of actual store space.

"We have prepared foundations and poured footings for a group of stores which will equal the length of Fifth Avenue from 42nd Street to 60th Street."

John C. Williams of 87 Library Place, president of L. Bamberger & Co., which will have the biggest store in the new center, has announced some of the plans for his company's branch. He termed it a "highly selected, but complete store in itself that is capable of producing approximately $5,000,000 annual volume."

Mr. Williams reported that the two-level air conditioned store will occupy 60,000 square feet. The street floor level will house an extensive women's apparel section (with featured junior miss, bridal service) and sportswear department as well as a women's and children's footwear section and a complete men's store.

The second floor will include children's wear, furniture, home furnishings and a beauty salon and will be linked to the street floor by escalators. Mr. Williams also announced that employment recruiting would be started here in the near future and candidates will be trained at the parent store in Newark.

According to Skillman and Skillman, of 247 Nassau Street, the renting agents, space allocation for the Acme Super Market to be operated by American Stores has been increased by 2,000 square feet to a total of 18,000 square feet.

Other developments in the center as announced by the agents: Princeton Bank and Trust will operate a branch bank; the Sun Ray Drug of Philadelphia has signed a lease for a 12,000 foot drug store; S. S. Kresge has announced plans to use a semi-self-service plan in its variety store; Frederick Harris, owner of "Teepee Town" stores will operate an 8,500 square foot toy and gift shop; and Cities Service will provide a service station adjacent to the 3,000-car parking area.

Kerr Pleads Guilty. Harry H. Kerr, Jr. of 178 Moore Street, former head teller at the First National Bank, waived indictment and pleaded guilty this week to the federal government's charge that he embezzled $6,000. The alleged irregularities occurred in the handling of funds for government bonds during the period from May, 1952, to May, 1953. Mr. Kerr, whose sentence had been deferred, had been with the First National for more than 32 years.

Sido L. Ridolfi, Trenton attorney who is acting as his counsel, told Town Topics that "a plea of guilty was entered on the technicality that the funds are missing from a department of which Mr. Kerr was the head. Under banking laws, there is no other alternative."

Mr. Ridolfi added: "I wanted to take a part in this case through appreciation for the frequent assistance that Mr. Kerr gave me when I was head cashier at Princeton University as an undergraduate." His client plans, Mr. Ridolfi said, to make restitution in full to the bank, "even though it will mean cashing in his insurance policies."

Jackpot, Robert Dixon, a Princetonian who sings in the chorus of the Broadway show "Wish You Were Here," made his own break in "show biz" when he won a TV talent contest for professional performers last Thursday. The show was "Chance of a Lifetime," emceed by Dennis James.

Mr. Dixon, who lives on the Grocers Mill Road, earned himself: $1,000; a week's billing at the Latin — Continued on Page 4

Custom Decorating. Two graduates of the Parsons School of Design in New York have joined the staff of Nassau Interiors, 162 Nassau. They are Mary Ann Cataldo and Win Affolter, and their purpose at N. I. is to help you with your home.

If you wonder what kind of a slip cover should go with floral drapes or what kind of rug should fill a bare space in the upper hall, they will help you out. If you are planning a new home, they will work out a complete decorating scheme with you, down to the last bon-bon dish.

They can get furniture and materials for you on special order from New York showrooms. This will be a particular help, they feel, to customers who are furnishing period homes and want to be sure of accuracy and correct scale.

In the course of their work for you, they will submit sketches, color renderings and floor plans. It's all very convenient.

Both Miss Cataldo and Mr. Affolter are members of the American Institute of Design. Mr. Affolter has worked with L. Bamberger in Newark and Miss Cataldo has for a time with M. Singer and Sons, the furniture showroom in New York.

Stop by and talk with them before you make any final decisions about fall decorating. They are at the store full time.

Got a Yacht? Don't need one to have yacht chairs, you know. Yacht chairs at The Wright Store, 130 Nassau, are lightweight aluminum with a plastic bamboo seat in greys and blues to blend with the metal.

Arms are a dull mottled aluminum for nice contrast with the shiny chassis. Two of these for $15 will last you for years—think how practical aluminum is at the salty, sandy, windy beach.

Small covered individual casseroles by Pyrex come in yellow, grey, green and red. Covers are glass and there is a tile under each one to keep the heat from your best table.

A roast that has been subtly flavored with herbs and sauces can give you a reputation for gourmet cookery. Here's a Chef's Pressure Seasoner ($1.25), a perforated metal tube, pointed like a skewer. On top there's a drum-shaped container like a tea strainer.

You put on herb bouquet or a sauce into the strainer and the heat of the roasting meat carries the flavor throughout. Remove and re-fill if you want a stronger flavor, or if you have a bigger roast. (Wine is a tenderizer, you know; why not put a quarter-cup fill of claret into that basket?)

Robeson steel is matchless, as you know. Now Robeson has utensils to match its knives: masher, fork, two turners, ladle, cleaver, and so on. Handle of Parkwood is streamlined and the steel goes right down to the end. Not cheap, but a splendid investment.

Take Along . . . an armful of books on your vacation and a game or two for the little ones (and yourself.) Scrabble is at The Princeton Book Mart—or was, anyhow. It comes in and goes out so fast you can't tell whether it's on the shelves or not. Scrabble is a mixture of anagrams and crossword puzzles and it's sweeping the country, etc., etc.

The game is well-made, with smooth wood counters and sturdy fibreboard. At 11 Palmer Square West, if everybody in town hasn't beaten you to it.

Quarter in New York; a recording contract with Columbia Records, and a movie contract with Universal-International. He plans to leave the show and hopes to make a career in night club work.

Revolt Grows. Resident of Hillsborough Township joined their Montgomery Township neighbors this week in seeking to change their form of government and to oust the present governing body, which they feel has failed to represent public opinion fairly. The controversy has been increasing for nearly a year over plans by the two municipalities to rezone some 1,500 acres of residential and agricultural land for heavy industry, thus enabling the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company to engage in quarrying and rock-crushing activities there.

Three members of the Hillsborough Community League, Charles Fontana, Walter H. Taverner, Jr. and Lee Bellows, presented petitions bearing 417 signatures to township clerk Almon V. Taylor (who refused ubiquitous photographer Alan W. Richards permission to take pictures of the proceedings.) The petitions, which are expected to force a referendum on Tuesday, August 25, for a switch from the committee form of government to a municipal manager, have two and a half times the number of signatures required for such a vote.

In Montgomery Township, the Community League has reported steadily increasing support for its campaign to effect a similar switch in form of government. Feeling is sufficiently high so that a number of residents of the two municipalities have reported plans to move from the area if the mining company is given permission to establish operations there.

The vote in Montgomery Township will be held Tuesday, August 18. The league has pointed out that under revised New Jersey legislation, absentee balloting is now legal and those away from home need merely advise the township clerk where to send their ballots on or before August 10.

Polio Patients Improve. While a fourth case of polio developed here last week, spread of the disease has been at least temporarily arrested. The most recent case was Melissa Tomlinson, 9-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Tomlinson of the Princeton-Kingston Road, whose condition was reported as "non-paralytic and satisfactory." Three other children in the family were inoculated with gamma globulin.

Marcia Harrison, 7, of Grovers Mill Road, Princeton Junction, is reported sufficiently improved so that she is no longer in an iron lung. She has been at Princeton Hospital with polio for the past three weeks. Martin and Leslie Richardson of 26½ Leigh Avenue, whose cases were first listed as "serious," have recovered to the extent that they were ready to be discharged this week.

Jaycee Chapter Planned. With the Trenton Junior Chamber of Commerce, the state's largest Jaycee chapter, serving as the sponsor, steps will be taken next Thursday, August 13, to form a similar organization here. The session will start at 8 p.m. at the Peacock Inn; Walter L. Wahlen, executive vice-president of the Trenton chapter, will preside.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Wahlen said, seeks to "install civic consciousness in its membership by means of active participation in constructive projects which will improve the community, state, nation and world." All men of the Princeton community from 21 to 35 are invited to attend Thursday's meeting; those interested but unable to be present are asked to

News of the Theatres

MURRAY THEATRE

Rundown, University Players are now working in Haiti, teaching drama at Northwestern, immersed in television, acting in other playhouses or just plain resting after completing their six-week stand in Murray Theatre.

The season proved a tremendous success from just about every angle. The Players captivated audiences while learning the biz, and more unusual, were a smash at the box office. Fourteen SRO nights (plus benefit sellouts) and consistently good turnouts added up to a gross of over $10,000 and a healthy kitty towards the projected 1954 season.

Charles Schultz, who earned great personal credit for his first venture as a producer, reported that the customers showed top preference for "Rose Tattoo" and "The Tempest" in about equal measure and had the most trouble with Cocteau's "The Infernal Machine."

Mr. Schultz and the group's business heads, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan, will do the planning for next year. They have already decided to expand to a 10-week season and to enlarge the resident company (which would allow the stage crew to stay backstage,) by means of "scouting" school year productions at various colleges.

Shakespeare and Shaw are sure to be on the schedule again and the increased season will allow the players to choose works of even greater variety than this year's interesting bill contained. Offers to back the '54 season have already been received, along with a number of requests for benefit nights.

The Players are planning to protect their name legally and will have to deal again with Actors Equity on the touchy subject of a ruling on the use of Equity members in what is essentially a non-profit, experimenting theatre organization. In the background: the big question of whether a competition-smothering summer theatre will operate in McCarter a year from now.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams is the current production at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. Ruth White is the star of this remarkable play, assisted by Will Hare, Virginia Robinson and Joseph Sullivan. Performances continue through Saturday with a matinee on the closing day.

The Playhouse turns next to farce. The work is "Meet the Wife" in which Mary Boland, Clifton Webb and Humphrey Bogart played on Broadway. The versatile Miss White will share the honors with another Bucks regular, Ronald Telfer, in the leading roles.

Miss White is cast as a celebrity-worshipper whose latest catch turns out to be her supposedly dead first husband. The supporting cast will include Gene Blakely, Walter Appler and Kaye Lyder.

LAMBERTVILLE MUSIC CIRCUS

Showboat is winding up a two-week session at St. John Terrell's Music Circus in Lambertville. The great Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein river boat classic has proved a smash hit once again at the musical tent (for the third season).

Performances continue through Sunday evening and then on Tuesday "Die Fiedermaus" takes over for a week. Production of the revamped operatic romance should be a tremendous challenge to the staging forces at the Music Circus with their in-the-round set-up.

those who haven't read the book, seen the play, seen the musical play and seen the earlier film of Anita Loos' celebrated little fable about the lives and loves of gold-diggers, here is the preposterous Hollywood version, hacked up and devoted mostly to hip-wiggling.

In the best tradition of the super-colossal musical, the film has glittering dances, some engaging songs, and leaden dialogue. Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell are given a chance to do what comes naturally, which they do with a maximum of equipment and a minimum of ability. The spectacular affair is here for a week.

Second Chance (Wed.-Sat.) features Robert Mitchum, Linda Darnell and Jack Palance in a Technicolor 3-D drama. Fast-moving and offering a number of suspenseful moments such as the wind-up flight in a cable car suspended between two peaks in the Andes, the film is better than most 3-D offerings to date and still rather unexceptional.

Palance is on the guns again, bent on shooting up Miss Darnell. Mitchum is a prizefighter on the lam and as usual acts as if his brains have been scrambled. Also on the bill is Walt Disney's "Melody," his first 3-D color cartoon-short. The imaginative Disney craftsmen make the most of the extra dimension.

THE GARDEN

The Juggler (Thurs.-Sat.) Stanley Kramer has put together a taut, uncomplicated melodrama about an unbalanced German refugee in Israel who very nearly is destroyed before rehabilitation sets in. Kirk Douglas does his usual competent job in the title role, and Director Roy Hunt's use of the authentic Israeli background is excellent.

Story of Three Loves (Mon.-Wed.) is a sometimes interesting and rather uneven trio of vaguely related romantic tales. Someone should catch your attention among the pack of stars which includes Pier Angeli, Ethel Barrymore, Leslie Caron, Kirk Douglas, Farley Granger, James Mason, Maira Shearer, Zsa Zsa Gabor, etc. The stories are about a ballerina, a boy who grows up before his time and two aerial performers. In Technicolor.

Sports in Princeton

Sportsmen Take Two, Three runs in the top of the last inning by the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club finally snapped Gallup & Robinson's eight-game winning streak in the American Softball League. Duke Bocanuso lashed out a home run with two mates aboard to earn a 6-5 decision after G & R had led most of the way on George Bryant's three-run, first-inning homer.

Bryant's circuit blow was his sixth in seven games, a stretch that has seen him collect 15 for 25 and a great .600 average. Sam Lisi was the winning hurler, holding the losers to seven hits. Earlier in the week, Paul Parisot had picked up his seventh straight triumph as G & R rode by Cousins, 7-2.

The Sportsmen helped themselves to a double victory last week and were the only team in the circuit to do so, as they also edged the Eagles, 8-7. Four errors by the losers hobbled Joe Rauch, Eagles' hurler, with Jake Bartolino's seventh-inning homer proving the decisive clout.

The Eagles won a big one, however, when they came back to defeat the first-place Teague's Stars in a 3-2 drama. Jack Lucey picked up the win when Rauch pinch hit for him in the last of the seventh and drove in the deciding run. Mike Leggi's defensive play was outstanding for the victors; Fred Wilson homered in the third for the losers.

In the League's other contest last week, Teague's slaved off a five-run rally in the seventh to outlast the Ex-Stars, 13-11. Teague's had to shove over nine tallies of its own in the closing rounds to assure the triumph after the Ex-Stars had overcome a four-run deficit with a six-run third. Lou Haggins was four for four, including a triple.

Nassau Social Rolls On. In the National League, Nassau Social wrapped up its 11th and 12th victories of the year and raised its consecutive streak over three seasons to 34. The World Federalists and the National Guard were the victims, by respective scores of 4-1 and 24-5.

Roemer McPhee held the league-leaders to five hits for the Federalists, while Huck McCreedy fanned 11 as he remained unbeaten. Bob Ceraso is back with the Social Club as its catcher after recovering from a broken finger.

Bucky Cupple's three singles and a triple paced the attack against the Guardsmen. Billy Mitchell also hit well for the victors with three hits, one of them for the distance. George Olsen's single spoiled as Tom Collins' bid for a no-hitter as Artistic Clippers whipped ETS, 7-1. Collins has five one-hitters to his credit this season. The Clippers lashed out ten hits, three of them by Joe Eldridge.

In the league's other game, the National Guard virtually assured itself of a playoff berth by out-slugging RCA, 24-16. Harry Kahny not only was the winning pitcher but aided his cause with a three-run homer; Mike Lisi and Sam Sculorati also hammered out four-base blows.

Home Runs Decisive. Kings Inn took an extra-inning thriller from Princeton Recreation Center, 6-5, in the Girls' League on the strength of two home runs by Kiki Braham Pierdinock. Her first came in the fifth to bring the victors from behind into a 4-4 tie; her second —Continued on Page 8 broke up the game in the eighth and Ginny Mershon blanked PRC in the last of that round to seal the verdict.

A single, double and triple by Jerry Meyers of the losers kept the game extremely close as they outlit the league-leaders, 14-9, but were handicapped by six errors. Dot Moore pitched well for PRC, and was aided by fine defensive play on the part of Lillian Scott.

Kings Inn also topped Peresett Appliance, 12-6, running in front all the way. Swinnerton's Gulf Station handed Peresett its second defeat of the week, 13-8, Alice Keiunji yielding two four-run innings but coasting home on the strength of a 13-hit attack.

Sturges Yacht Wins. Battling unusually heavy seas and high winds, Sapphire, sailed by Mayor P. MacKay Sturges and his crew, last week won the Class B competition for Sloops and Yawls on the longest leg of the annual New York Yacht Club Cruise. Competing against 13 other entries in its division, Sapphire completed the 127 miles from the Cape Cod Canal to the lee of Burnt Island, off Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

Mayor Sturges (accompanied by his wife) won over his nearest competitor by 30 minutes, requiring an elapsed time of 22 hours, 33 minutes and 8 seconds for the run. The going was unusually heavy, with all of the yachts shortening sail, shipping water constantly and at least two of them turning into Provincetown under power when they found the weather too rugged.

The cruise turned southward this week under better conditions to finish the annual competition. Mayor and Mrs. Sturges, veteran yachting enthusiasts, are spending the summer at Shelter Island, N. Y.

Legion Nine in Action. Princeton Post No. 76, American Legion, undefeated in five road games this season, will open a three-day home stand on Brokaw Field Wednesday. The first of three twilight engagements will be played at 6:15 against Lawrenceville, with Ewing A. C. and Walker-Gordon to be met Thursday and Friday.

Chick Davis, former Emory and Henry star, is the manager. Davis, Bruce Dennen, Tom Robbins and Jack Shepard handle the pitching duties, with Bob Dennen the catcher. The infielders are Walt Wells, Del Wible, Bob Montgomery and Bill Rodefeld, while "Red" Ross, Fred Wilson, Ray Davis and Frank Perna share the outfield assignments.

Baseball Title to Bamman's. A record of 6-1 in the Junior Baseball League was good enough to clinch the season's title for the Bamman's even before play had ended. Robert Sinkler coached the victorious nine, which will meet an all-star team from the other three entries this Friday night at 6:15 on Brokaw Field.

The Bowers team upset Bamman's, 3-1, for its first loss and also topped Hook and Ladder, 5-1. The latter, however, held second place in the standings, with Bowers third and Thomas fourth.

Bell and Gurley Win. Defending champions Phil Bell and Jack Gurley retained their men's doubles tennis championships last week, trimming Tom Whiten and Simeon Hutner, 6-1, 6-2. Gurley's service and Bell's net game were responsible for the one-sided outcome. Earlier in the week, the champions had topped Harold Weider and James Lin, 6-1, 6-2, while Whiten and Hutner were conquering Michael Rinnus and Alan Tredennick, 6-1, 6-3.

Sixteen mixed doubles teams began competition this week in the final event of the season, with Mr. and Mrs. Gurley defending their title. Other entries were Miss Lawrence Norris and Commander C. Fink Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. Reeves Hicks and Dr. David Miller, Miss Barbara Hillhouse and James Gibson, Miss Elizabeth Davis and Kenneth Dawson, Miss Priscilla Cortelyou and Philip Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Tredennick, Miss Ann Freemantle and James John, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbons, Miss Elizabeth Sprout and Henry Gigene, Mr. and Mrs. William Sword, Mr. and Mrs. John Ballantine, Miss Lydia McKinney and John Mack, Miss Ellen Kerney and Harold Weider.

The Rev. Edward C. Henry, pastor of St. Paul's Church, has been re-elected chaplain. Other officers to serve during the coming months are Donald Logan, financial secretary; John Stachowicz, recording secretary; Walter McKee, treasurer; William Murphy, advocate; Frank Hart, lecturer; Patrick Coughlin, inside guard; Michael Peacos, outside guard; Vincent Gallagher, warden; John McCarthy, Burling Prince and George Wood, trustees.

A five-man committee to inform members and non-members of Catholic action is headed by Mr. Peacos. Serving with him are Mr. Wood, Mr. Hart, Mr. Logan and Andrew Sayles.

Lane to Back By-Pass. A by-pass for heavy traffic around Princeton's residential area is advocated by Arthur S. Lane, Republican candidate for State Senate from Mercer County. Mr. Lane, an alumnus and former Princetonian, feels that "this college town, with its historic and residential traditions, should not be subjected to the impact of noise, dirt and dangers of heavy through-traffic."

He reports a discussion on the subject with State Highway Department officials and expresses the conviction that "the necessary by-pass should be designed so as to avoid the disturbance of existing residential properties in the area and construction commenced without further delay." Mr. Lane adds that his election next November will bring from him full cooperation toward completion of such a project.

Miscellany. Sons have been born to Mr. and Mrs. James M. Van Stone, 223-C Halsey Street; Mr. and Mrs. William Carnecross, 306 Witherspoon Street; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sylvester, Lincoln Highway. Daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Chambers, Ewing Street; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wohlschlegel, 36 Chestnut Street; Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanton Patterson, Bedens Brook Road, Skillman; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook Jr., Plainsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Carlisle, Skillman.

Arthur M. Turner of 412 Devereux Avenue, a graduate student in chemistry at the University, was injured last Thursday when he apparently walked into a moving automobile outside Trenton. After treatment for head cuts and body bruises, he was held for x-rays and further observation.

In the only borough municipal court case of the week, Andrew C. Imbrie, of 20 Hibben Road, was fined $15 for failing to give the right of way at an intersection.

A cafeteria supper featuring ham and chicken salad will be served at the annual Harvest Home of the Griggstown Reformed Church this Saturday starting at 5:30 p.m. in the church annex. Mrs. Frederick R. Crawford Jr. is general chairman and her assistants include Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. John Rutherford, Sarah Johnson, William A. Johnson Jr., Mrs. George Dyrsten, Bernice Crawford, David Smith, Raymond Peters, Martin and Lloyd Van Doren, Harry Staats, Raymond Hoagland, Martin Sorenson and Albin Holst.

Princeton's Company L of the National Guard will entrain Friday night for its annual two-week tour of active duty at Camp Drum, N. Y. The advance detachment left Wednesday by jeep. Company L has also announced that SFC Salvatore L. DiDonato of 270 Witherspoon Street is now in training as a National Guard officer candidate at Fort Riley, Kan. Upon completion of the 12-week program, he will rejoin the unit as a second lieutenant.

Trix Stix is a set of flexible plastic strips four inches long, one-quarter inch wide. They lock together with a keyhole arrangement in each end. With only four stix you can make over 50 shapes, designs, small animals and so on. With all the stix in the set, you can make everything but Scrabble.

Sketches on the box show giraffes, puppies, mobiles, flowers—everything. Stix float in water and can be used over and over. If they bend, you drop them in warm water and then press them under a book. Set in four colors (red, blue, green, yellow) for $3.

New Decorating Service Started. A new interior decorating service has been added to the Princeton area by G. Oliver Saylor of Plainsboro. Mr. Saylor, formerly associated with Nassau Interiors, will bring samples to your home or office and confer with you on your decorating problems.

He is in a position to assist you in slipcovers, draperies and reupholstering. Incidentally, ask to see samples of the 1954 fabrics, which he already has on hand. The number is Plainsboro 3-2705-R-12.

For Your Hostess. Any woman who loves a pretty house and likes to give a party would be delighted with almost anything in The Town Shop, 12 Nassau.

Aluminum circles on tripods make unusual trays. Slightly concave, these circles are green or white spotted faintly with gold. Small ones are $3, a big fellow 16 inches across is $6.

Another tray is some sort of plastic composition in grey or gold. It is oblong, plain as a table top, and comes with a stand, if you like. Without, it's $4.50; with it's $6.50.

A pair of metal cylinders have been joined with a common handle, just for an impromptu flower arrangement or, if you like, a container for a dripping umbrella or two. Pears, avocados, and cherries stand out boldly on a surface of chartreuse or yellow. Splendid with flowers on a terrace.

More flowers could go in pottery vases designed like those strawberry harrets with plants appearing suddenly from a hole in the side. These vases are traditional in feeling (like the barrel) or they are modern, like a clump of organ pipes. The color is an off-white that will match either petunia or marigold.

It never would have occurred to us, somehow, but an enterprising designer has spruced up an old string-server and made it pertinent enough to give as a present. It's a Continental Army drum with the dates of the Revolution printed on its side. (1789-1793—how were you in American History?) Made of cardboard, it's about three inches high and holds a spool of green string inside. Bring on Yankee Doodle!

Obituaries

Mrs. Fleeta Campbell Coe, wife of Dr. James R. Coe of 73 South Stanworth Drive, died August 1 at the McCauley Nursing Home, Ewing Township, after a long illness. A writer who had contributed for many years to The New Yorker, Harper's and Scribner's, she was well known for her "Life of Mary Baker Eddy." Her husband is her only near survivor. The funeral was held from Trinity Episcopal Church, with interment at the convenience of the family.

George McAneny of 252 Bayard Lane died July 29 in Princeton Hospital at the age of 83. A former borough president of Manhattan and acting mayor of New York, Mr. McAneny served in many civic capacities in that city for 40 years. In 1939, he was chairman of the board of the New York World's Fair.

Extremely versatile, he was for five years executive manager of The New York Times and later served as president and chairman of the board of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of New York. He had been a resident of Princeton for the past five years and was Town Topics' Man of the Week, February 22-28, 1953.

Connects You With a Complete Building Materials Service

Grover Lumber is a regular Building Materials Department Store in Princeton. Our "shelves" are piled high with a wide and varied selection of hardware . . . lumber . . . wallboards . . . paint . . . just everything to build anything. All the old reliables are teamed up with the newest improved products.

SAVE YOUR TIME

No running around to a half dozen places to pick up additional materials. Our one-stop service saves you time, trouble and money. No parking worries either!

FREE ADVICE

Experienced building consultants are on hand to give you facts on each product and its application. You'll learn where and why a less expensive product can be substituted for a more costly one. You'll get a gold mine of information to stretch your building dollar.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT

Financing can be arranged so you can pay for materials on easy monthly terms. If you intend to do the work yourself, we'll give you step-by-step directions.

He is survived by his wife, the former Marjorie Jacobi, to whom he had been married for 53 years; four sons, among them, Herbert McAneny of 59 Bayard Lane; two daughters, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A private funeral service was followed by interment at the convenience of the family.

William L. Pruitt, 47, of 61 Birch Avenue, died July 30 at Princeton Hospital. An employee of the hospital, he was the husband of Mrs. Mamie Pruitt and also leaves his parents, three sisters and three brothers. A service at the First Baptist Church was followed by interment in Huntsville, Ala.

Mrs. Mary F. Brown Winberg, 74, of Carter Road, widow of August F. Winberg, died August 1 in a Trenton nursing home. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. John Vandoren of Princeton; a son, and several nieces and nephews. The service at the Mather Funeral Home was followed by burial in Bound Brook Cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Hussey Windish, 52, wife of Max A. Windish of 31 Moran Avenue, died August 2 in Princeton Hospital. A life-long Princetonian, she had been associated with the Peacock Inn for the past 30 years.

Her survivors in addition to her husband are a son, William A. Hussey; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McIntosh; two brothers, William and Andrew McIntosh; and two grandchildren, all of Princeton. A service at the Kimble Funeral Home was followed by burial in Princeton Cemetery.
